FAS

PREMIER PERFORMANCE SHOOTING

FAS is Chiappa Firearms' brand dedicated to precision sporting firearms, designed to deliver high performance, precision and customization.

Founded in the early 1970s, FAS developed models such as the OP 601 and SP 602 for international shooting disciplines, a competitive tradition that culminated in 1980 when Corneliu Ion won Olympic gold in the 25 m Rapid Fire Pistol event in Moscow with a FAS/Domino pistol. This legacy continued with the 603, 604, 607 and 608 models, leading to the transfer of FAS/Domino know-how to Chiappa Firearms.

Today, FAS carries this tradition forward with .22 LR and air pistols for competition and training.

Designed to provide both durability and a refined appearance, these different options allow every shooter to select the style that best reflects their personal taste while maintaining the same ergonomic design and performance.

TENCH® REGULATOR

Developed in 2008 by British engineer Simon "Tench" Howarth, the Tench® Regulator has been used in over 10,000 units and has contributed to more than 20 World, European and National titles. It is a spring-assisted valve that creates a constant-pressure air reservoir, separate from the main supply, improving efficiency, accuracy and shot count. Its "hard seal" design, made from a highly stable composite material, ensures superior resistance to wear, chemicals and temperature changes compared to traditional soft seals. Combined with a large piston differential typical of Belleville-type regulators, it delivers outstanding stability, reliability and shot-to-shot consistency, remaining a benchmark in the industry.
